OUT-OF-COMPETITION WORKS

SPECIAL NOMINATION FROM
OKHORONA PRATSI MAGAZINE

The magazine's editorial board has a lot of children's drawings that did not make it to the regional selection round for quite important reasons. Because of the war, many children were forced to leave abroad or found themselves in occupation and had no physical opportunity of sending their drawings by mail. So, as an exception, the editorial board accepted electronic photos of such drawings. Some children just did not understand, and sent their drawings directly to the editorial board instead of sending them to the SLS regional units.
